Hello there!

I am so excited and honored that you're here!

We all have some level of baggage when it comes to shopping and our relationship with clothes. Whether you're a new mom struggling to recognize yourself in your new body, maybe you've never been able to find your personal style, or perhaps you're going through a major life change and your outward style doesn't represent the person you feel inside.

I would love to help you find yourself and your style again. I've been there, and I want you to feel like the beautiful human you are!

My Style Journey

When I was a kid and even in middle school, I had no fear when it came to my style. I wore what I loved. Period. Then puberty, a new school, and pressure to fit in started to creep into my mind and I started wearing what everyone else wore. I cared more about them and their opinion of me than I did about my own style.

I got married and had my first daughter by 26, after that my body had changed dramatically. I lived in a place without a lot of shopping and this was pre-Amazon Prime. I started hiding my body, was unsure of where to shop, and felt like a shell of person I once was. I forgot that we can be many things at the same time, we can be a mother and still be a powerhouse at work, and we can be sexy whenever we want!

After my divorce, I went through a lot of personal healing and growth, finding my own style was a big part of that. I learned from some amazing women how to dress my body and find the styles that brought me JOY! And now I want to share that with you.

"I forgot that we can be many things at the same time, we can be a mother and still be a powerhouse at work, and we can be sexy whenever we want!"

Why Work with Me

For years I felt like I'd lost myself, my self-confidence and sense of style; I was stuck. The idea of finding myself again felt out of reach, let alone figuring out my personal style. It was easy for me to sit with friends or family and help them on the same journey. I started by surrounding myself with women who inspired me to think differently about personal style and who nudged me to try new things even if they were out of my comfort zone. Little by little, I started to piece it together.

The confidence I had as a young teen started to come back to me, and whoever that girl was for you - I want you to reconnect with her!

Feeling stylish and "put together" is entirely attainable. You don't have to spend a fortune either. My goals for you are to feel confident and inspired.

How It Works

01

BOOK A DISCOVERY CALL

We'll spend an hour together talking through your likes, dislikes, struggles, goals, and shopping habits to get me started.

02

STYLE PROFILE & SHOPPING

I will put together a presentation for you outlining everything we talked about in our discovery as well as links to shop pieces I will choose for you and details on how to style them.

03

PURCHASE YOUR CLOTHES

Based on what I will send you, you will pick and choose what you want to buy. You can also use it as a guide if you want to go shopping on your own.

04

FINAL STYLING

As you start to receive your new clothes, we will set up another call or in-person meeting to go over fit and make final styling recommendations so you feel empowered and confident to shop on your own.
